

BUSINESS VALUATIONS IN FAMILY LAW

Many marriages rely on a family business for their main source of income.

It can be a significant asset and one that needs to be carefully reviewed due to the substantial impact it can have on a property settlement.

We provide business valuations for trading entities earning an annual turnover of up to $10 million, across all states and territories in Australia. Our valuations are competitively priced and can be performed at short notice providing all the necessary documentation is readily available. Valuations are performed pursuant to requirements which are obligatory on all accountants performing valuations.

The determined value of a business is greatly affected by the valuation method employed and our reports explain the reasons for using the chosen valuation methods.

Our independent opinions, along with any assumptions made, are explained in detail so divorcing couples with businesses know where they stand. Our reports are prepared to a standard appropriate for use in a court and we are experienced in providing expert evidence when required.
